JOHN E. BROWNLEE SUCCEEDS GREENFIELD AS PREMIER

No New Ministers added to Cabinet. New Premier will seriously consider "Broadening Out". Both the Retiring and newly-elected Premiers give out Official Statements.

Edmonton, Nov. 24.—Herbert Greenfield went down to the parliament buildings yesterday morning as premier of this province. He left at noon a private member of the legislature, one of Mr. Brownlee's constituents, presenting the constituency of Peace River.

John E. Brownlee, attorney general, is the new premier and leader of the U.P.A. government, being sworn in as the new premier by Lieut. Governor Dr. William Egbert at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

No new ministers were added to the cabinet with the retirement of Mr. Greenfield. Premier Brownlee will carry on as attorney general; George Headley, minister of health and agriculture, takes over the provincial secretaryship held by Mr. Brownlee; R. G. Reid takes over the position as minister of municipal affairs, a portfolio he relinquished to Mr. Greenfield some months ago.

Mr. Greenfield will go into no other public position. He will continue to represent Peace River in the legislature for the present, but is undecided whether to resign when the present legislature expires or not.

With the private U.P.A. members of the house on hand for a continuation of the caucus which was adjourned Saturday, Mr. Brownlee hesitated to accept the premiership.

Mr. Greenfield sent a personal appeal to Mr. Brownlee, urging him to accept and expressing his utmost confidence in the loyalty of the attorney general which had been evidenced so strongly during the last four years. At this point Mr. Brownlee accepted and notified the waiting roomful of members that he would take over the government leadership.

Mr. Egbert was summoned and in a short time the change was made. Premier Brownlee immediately went back into caucus with the government members, and Mr. Greenfield went up town, looking decidedly more cheerful over the situation than did Mr. Brownlee.

The caucus continued until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon during which the future policies of the administration were discussed and the new premier outlined his views on a number of important matters. It is understood that Mr. Brownlee will seriously consider "broadening out" policy, but to what extent and with what effect on the future policy of the government, remains to be developed as time approaches for another and final session of the legislature.

The following statement by Premier Brownlee was given out at 11 o'clock last night:

"It is with deep regret and extreme reluctance that I have accepted the position of premier of the executive council. The personal relationship developed during my four years' association with Mr. Greenfield, and my regard for his fine personal qualities, and his devotion to the duties of his office have made it very hard for me to contemplate his retirement from the position he has held since 1921.

"This is not the time to review the policies which have engaged the attention of the administration, and which it will be my effort to promote, rather than to say my first concern will be to press to a satisfactory conclusion the policy of economy and reduction in the cost of government which has engaged the attention of the administration since assuming office. At a later and appropriate time I will outline the general policies I believe to be necessary for the healthy development of our provincial life.

"For the present no change will be made in the personnel of the cabinet. The department of municipal affairs will be temporarily assumed by Mr. Reid, who formerly was minister of that department, while the department of provincial secretary will be assumed by Mr. Headley.

"Believing that in a province so essentially dependent upon agriculture the interests of city, town and country in all fundamental problems are identical, I request the cooperation of all citizens, rural and urban, in an effort to promote unity and harmony of purpose in our provincial thought." While some changes have been made in the new cabinet, no changes in personnel have been made, neither is there a new attorney general named to replace Premier Brownlee. The new cabinet as now named is as follows:

Premier and attorney general, J. E. Brownlee.

Provincial treasurer and minister of municipalities, R. G. Reid.

PROGRESSIVES TO SIT WITH LIBERALS

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—Preparations for the opening of parliament are going forward. The seating of the parties is presenting the greatest difficulty owing chiefly to the increase in the number of Conservatives and the decrease in the Progressives. Preliminary arrangements call for seating the Progressives, together with the Labor and Independent members, in the Liberal side of the house. In the last parliament the Conservatives and Progressives shared the seats on the left of the house.

Pierre Casgrain will probably act as chief Liberal whip pending a possible reorganization immediately after the test vote. Mr. Casgrain and Colonel H. W. Bowie, sergeant-at-arms, have been asked to make a tour of the country in an effort to smooth the path for the opening of the session. A. W. Boys, it is understood, will again perform the duties of chief Conservative whip. He will be aided by Mr. Charters, member-elect for the constituency of Peel.

LIVESTOCK POOL MEETING HERE

GIRLS' CLUB HAD SUCCESSFUL DANCE

HOLIDAYS OVERSEAS ATTRACT MANY CANADIANS

CHRISTMAS at home has a charm for the average Briton that is not to be denied, for nowhere in the world is there a greater observance of the old Yuletide customs than that which prevails in the British Isles. Friends and relatives of those who have come to this country to make their home in the new Dominion look forward every year to the coming of the winter season, knowing that this is the time when the people of Western Canada have the time at their disposal for lengthy holidays necessary to enjoy ocean travel.

This year passenger travel to Great Britain and to other continental countries, promises to be heavier than for many years, according to officials of the Canadian National Railways in Western Canada, who state the preliminary inquiries already received indicate that more people are figuring on holidays abroad during the coming winter than for some time. Accordingly, officials of the National System are now making their plans for the handling of such business and the provision of Canadian National service between Western Canada and the Atlantic seaboard for the convenience of those who plan overseas trips. Canadian National agents at all points will again ticket passengers on all steamship lines, and, as the traffic warrants, special trains carrying both day coaches and sleeping cars will be operated from various western points direct to the "boat" side at Montreal, Quebec, Halifax and other ports.

The charm of English scenery, coupled with that of old associations, draws just as strongly today as ever, and to many a Western Canadian, these winter holidays give the one opportunity of visiting the old homeland scenes and mingling again with childhood friends and with those members of the family left behind when he or she first came to Canada to find a home in the new Dominion.

Rates and dates of sailings and special trains will shortly be announced by the Canadian National Railways.

PICKLES---A ROMANCE

(As recently played by the Young People's Society of the United Church)

Prologue

The Reverend and Mrs. Tweedle-pump had a daughter, Cecilia Joan, a young, charming and accomplished girl. It was their dearest hope and wish that she should marry an irreproachable young minister, by name, Archibald Clarence Theophilus Dundee, who had lately come to assist the Reverend Tweedle-pump in his ministerial duties in the thriving little town of Marston-in-the-Mud. The particular denomination that the Reverend Tweedle-pump was desirous of kindling to heaven doesn't matter in the least. There they were. Archibald Clarence Theophilus was altogether a nice young man. Absolutely irreproachable. He didn't smoke, had never been heard to swear, his most violent expletive being "dear me," and as for drinking, one-half per cent barley water was the strongest liquid that had ever passed his young lips. He adored the fair sex but was usually always reduced to a state of speechless ineptitude if a girl attempted to engage him in conversation, and his big, innocent, cat-like eyes looked as if they were going to jump out of his semi-bald head. He was in fact, what is commonly known as a "sissy."

He was referred to by the Reverend Tweedle-pump as "my dear Archibald, dear boy, you know, bright future!" Mrs. Tweedle-pump in early days of him as "darling Clarence," so pure, so high-minded.

Cecilia Joan had no use for the young gentleman whatsoever, and frankly spoke of him as "that awful Billy Pickles," Cecilia Joan had been through high school and college, had bobbed hair and short skirts and her language was expressive even if it was bit inelegant.

Her affections were centred on a young red-headed Irishman, who rejoiced in the name of Pickles, who was engaged in mastering the intricacies of banking, the subtleties of over-drafts, savings bank and what not. Billy Pickles, red-headed, up to all the mischief that could be conceived, for ever playing practical jokes, he was the exact opposite of Archibald, and it can be readily imagined, found great favor in the eyes of the Reverend and Mrs. Tweedle-pump.

"That young reprobate Pickles" was a constant and favorite expression of the Reverend gentleman, while Mrs. Tweedle-pump, with misty eyes over her teacup, lamented the fact "that that truly, truly, awful young man should have the audacity to aspire to the hand of her darling Cecilia," the apple of her eye, and the source of her expensive humors.

Archibald loved Cecilia in a calf-like manner, but Pickles was what is called by novelists "dramatic." When he declared his passion his red lips seemed to grow redder and redder, until it almost emitted sparks, and he declared that if he ever caught that hilly idiot Archibald Clarence Theophilus even so much as making eyes at Cecilia, or Cliss, as he loved to call her, he would "knock his bloomin' block off."

Cecilia had two bosom friends, Dolly and Peggy, and they had sworn by all they held sacred to assist Cecilia in every way possible in her love affair with Pickles, whom they declared was a dear in spite of his flaming looks.

Pickles had plenty of support, in the shape of two equally mischievous young rascals, Jimmy Poppy and Dicky Spriggins. The united brains of this formidable trio had evolved the daring scheme of an elopement and at the same time carrying off Archibald and keeping him prisoner until the Reverend Papa and Mama were ready to recognize Pickles and take him to their hearts so to speak and receive him into the family.

The scene opens in the drawing room of the rectory. Time about 5 p.m. Cecilia is busy arranging flowers for a reception of old hens who are to gather and drink tea and discuss the affairs of the "Anti-Kissing Association" with Mrs. Tweedle-pump. Cecilia is very happy. She has received a letter from Billy telling her that he loves her more than pumpkins and that she is the most beautiful girl in "the whole bally universe," to use Billy's ardent expression. She walks around delectably arranging the flowers and humming a favorite song of Billy's.

"Her face is like a buttercup. Her cheeks are like the rose. She made me feel all fluttered up. When she kissed me on the nose?" She had broken into singing and she had just finished the last line of this classic refrain when she turns and discovers her Mama standing in the doorway, who has been listening to this recital. Cecilia claps her hand to her mouth and mutters "The Saints preserve us." Mrs. Tweedle-pump advances further into the room and in sorrowful tones addresses her erring daughter. "My darling Cecilia, do you know me not that those horrid vulgar songs, Darling Clarence is so much against them. I am afraid it is that awful, awful young man Pickles who indulges in songs of that description, oh, my darling Cecilia, I do wish that you would cut him out."

Cecilia cannot bear to hear Billy referred to as an "awful young man" and she makes a spirited reply: "That, Mama, Billy is not an awful young man at all. He is charming and why, oh why, do you and Papa dislike him?" She then produces a dainty handkerchief and pretends to cry. Artful mien. Between her pretended sobs she declares in broken tones: "Oh, how I love my Pickles! my sweet Pickles! How I love my Pickles!"

Mrs. Tweedle-pump cannot stand Cecilia crying and hastens from the room. She has scarcely gone when there is a noise at the window. The pops the window and in pops Billy, all excited and worked up. He had been the seat of his pants and is endeavoring to cover up the ropes and wires hanging from his belt, and at the same time he tries to embrace Cecilia with his right. "My darling Cliss, my darling Cliss," he begins, and then forgetting his pants, or his want of them, claps her to him with both arms and kisses her ardently; meanwhile the supports being down his nice, new silk shirt ($2.50 at Richard's) flows gracefully out in the vicinity of his seat. Plutonium in the breeches, so to speak, Cecilia is alarmed. Naturally so. "Oh, darling Billy, are you hurt?" she enquires sweetly, and attempts to ascertain the extent of the injury, while Pickles revolves like a top to prevent her getting a full view.

Just at this moment footsteps are heard outside, and Pickles dives under the table. Only just in time. The door opens and in come Mrs. Tweedle-pump and the first of her hostile visitors in the person of Mrs. Spencer Scratchback. Cecilia greets her sweetly. And now they all begin to arrive. Mrs. Tongue-taster and the two Miss Tongue-tasters. Mrs. Scratchback and their little boy, a truly awful infant. Mrs. Wiggle-dial and her anaemic daughter, Miss Janet Wiggle-dial. Mrs. Julia Smythe, who looks as though she had swallowed a poker. Mrs. Amelia Pumpkin, who resembles a scraggy leg of mutton. Mrs. Barker, who cannot speak louder than a hoarse whisper. Mrs. and the Misses Bumblefoot, who attempt to be sprightly and girlish but do not achieve success. The three elderly Miss Whipples. Mrs. Georgina Huthorne-Thwaite (blue blooded). She affects a lorgnette. Mrs. Susanna Grouch, called by the vulgar one-eyed Susan. Mrs. and Miss Stiffneck. Mrs. Wobble. Mrs. and Miss Nether-wallop. Madame De Buck, late of Wales. Mrs. Mug and the Misses Mug. The Right Hon. Mrs. Leonard Gizzle, advocate of three meals per day. And so they come. The whole raft of the elite of Marston-in-the-Mud. Last but by no means least are Dolly and Peggy. They wait to be at the death. Mrs. Tweedle-pump pours tea and the conversation becomes general.

It Pays

Here's some straight talk from P. W. Anderson, of Canad, Nebraska, a successful merchant—

"I have no sympathy for the merchant who shops between advertised blankets on bed springs that are nationally advertised, sleeps in advertised pyjamas, who puts on advertised underwear, shirts, garters and clothing when he gets up in the morning, who eats advertised cereals and foods for breakfast, who rides to work in an advertised car, and who, when he gets to work, refuses to advertise. He ought to go broke and be put in the pen. If I were to start in business again tomorrow, I would invest five per cent of my gross sales in advertising. It pays!"

All Electors Should Vote

The record of Invermere, B.C., in 143 out of 144 voters going to the polls on election day, should act as a rousing call to apathetic voters. Here is a commendable example. The record is a record. If the will of the majority is to prevail, and if we respect this principle of government, it is only right and proper and a bounden duty for all citizens to see that the principle comes into force. This is the only way of ensuring that highly desirable ends in the government of a country—stable government. But so long as those who are entitled to the vote do not trouble to use the privilege and the prerogative they have, but leave others to do what they should do for themselves, we can never have a government in accord with the will of the country as expressed by a majority which is a majority in its true sense, that proclaiming the views of the country at large.

A lot of trouble is taken over making up voters' lists. No doubt it should become highly indignant should it be that their names happen to be omitted from the lists, but how little do they care, even if their names are on, to make use of the vote they are entitled to.

Apathy in voting is not a good sign. It reveals a small concern for the rights of citizenship. It shows a neglect for those things which should be reckoned to count, and count for much if we have the interest of the country, the province, or the city or town in which we happen to live. We need today a wakening of consciousness of the duty the citizen owes the state, as expressed in the ballot box when the time for this arrives. It is not a mere party duty, the meaning of voting is too large to look to in this light. It needs to be viewed in its best and broadest sense, the expression of opinion by those who are judged capable of expressing that opinion of what is best in the interest of country, province, city and town, in the extent to which the franchise has been extended from the day when it was considered that the affairs of the state could best be left to the privileged few. — Lethbridge Herald.

An Ounce of Prevention

All over the world a new type of hospital is being built—the psychopathic hospital, where people who have mental troubles are studied and treated.

The very words, psychopathic hospital, indicate the new theories of medical experts—that mental troubles may be studied and successfully treated. A psychopathic hospital is also an aid in prevention. Prevention of the bad mental habits that frequently lead to insanity is part of the field of the science of mental hygiene.

The best time to prevent traits which in later years develop into forms of insanity, is in the very earliest years of childhood. Good habits of thinking are as easily formed as bad ones. Discipline, self-control, courage, affection and loyalty, the strength of character and the qualities of personality that make for contentment and a happy useful life can be developed in children by curbing the bad and encouraging the good by personal example and precept. As in everything else, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

FAIR DATES SET

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Managers of the western fairs who were in attendance at the Canadian Association of Exhibitions, in the Chateau Laurier here, announced the dates for next year's fairs as follows: Brandon, June 25 to July 3; Calgary, July 5 to 16; Edmonton July 12 to 17; Saskatoon, July 19 to 24; and Regina, July 26 to 31. The Western Canada Association of Exhibitions will meet the first week in February.

New Varieties of Grains

The production and development of superior varieties and strains of grains by the Dominion experimental farms, is accomplished chiefly by artificial crossing, although the possibilities of finding a starting point for something better than the now exists in old established varieties is not overlooked.

Owing to the transcending importance of hard spring wheat in Canadian agriculture and to the vital necessity of maintaining our reputation as a producer of high quality wheat, this crop has received the greatest attention. While the introduction of such varieties as Marquis marked an enormous advance, yet there is need for still better varieties. Varieties which mature earlier and which will escape or resist rust, that arch enemy of the Manitoba wheat grower particularly, are badly needed. The department is therefore devoting every effort to produce sorts which will meet the existing requirements, and it is gratifying to be able to say that very considerable progress has been made in this direction. In addition to at least two new wheats which may appear in the near future, pending final trial, the division is submitting to the public special tests two promising varieties of barley, two of peas, and three of flax.

Practically all the cross breeding work is done at Ottawa, whereas the final adjudication of the new creations or selections is left very largely with the branch farms and local co-operators.

Province Not Entitled To Priority of Claim

The provincial government has no priority over the other creditors of a bankrupt estate, except as set down in the Bankruptcy act, which gives it priority for claims for taxes, rates and assessments, including arrears due under the Workmen's Compensation act.

This, the judgment of Mr. Justice Twiddle, sitting in the bankruptcy court, was the result of an appeal by the provincial government from the refusal of the Canadian Credit Men's Association, acting as trustee of the bankrupt estate of the Canadian Dist. U.L. Cooperative Association, Ltd., to recognize its priority in the claim of the government over those of other creditors.

The government had filed a claim for $3,812.69 for hay sold to the defendant, with the result that the U.P.A. association to assist on saving the livestock of farmers in the district, there being no feed to be obtained locally. The association became bankrupt and the Canadian Credit Men's Association was appointed trustee, and refused to give any priority to the claim of the government.

HIGH PRICE PAID FOR BOX APPLES

Toronto, Nov. 21.—The highest price ever paid for a box of apples in Toronto and probably in Canada was made last night at the Royal Winter fair when two boxes from Vernon, B.C., were sold by auction for $559 each. Three other boxes sold at $259 each; three were sold at $200 each; three for $159 each, and 13 for $109 each. The total was $4,000, which will go to the Adam Beck Memorial Fund at the sanatorium in London, Ontario.

HOSPITAL GIVEN A BEQUEST OF $1,000

Red Deer, Nov. 20.—Red Deer municipal hospital has received a bequest of $1,000 from the late H. J. Bayly, formerly manager of the Red Deer Grocery. Mr. Bayly died in 1924, after seven years service with the company in Red Deer. In his last year he had occasion to go to the hospital and left this bequest as a mark of appreciation of the service he received there and of his pleasant association with Red Deer citizens generally.

That is, everybody talks at once and nobody listens to what anyone else is saying. Taking advantage of Cecilia's temporary absence from the room Mrs. Tweedlepump mounts her hobby horse and launches forth into an invective against poor Pickles, bewailing the fact of his obnoxious administration of the law, and the bad influence generally he is in the community. Meanwhile poor Pickles is under the place suffering the tortures of the damned, because that sweet angel Seraphine is nothing at all over the place and Billy is in imminent danger of being discovered.

At last Pickles becomes so enraged at some remark of Mrs. Tweedlepump concerning himself, that he blazes her and the rascals from the room screaming for the peroxide, declaring a rat has bit her. The other ladies, with the exception of Dolly and Peggy, all follow to render assistance, and then out comes Pickles, his shirt sticking out more than ever behind. Dolly and Peggy take in the situation at a glance and are all ready to help. Just then there is a noise at the window and in comes Jimmy and Dicky, just when they are holding a council of war, Cecilia having come back, who should walk in but Archibald, who is ever on hand when there is a tea-fight in the offing. Before he can say "Boo," Jimmy and Dicky seize him and ram a handkerchief into his mouth. Billy covers up his "open space" with a tablecloth, grabs Cecilia and bolts out of the window, Dicky and Jimmy following with Archibald, who is making a row like a feeble rabbit.

They have barely gone when the ladies all come back. Dolly and Peggy burst into tears and declare that hold, had pirates have carried off Cecilia and Archibald. There is general panic. The Reverend Tweedlepump arrives and immediately telephones for Sergeant Brandish, who arrives post haste. Mrs. Tweedlepump insists on showing him the wound in her leg (location not indicated), much to the embarrassment of the Sergeant, she declaring that, after all perhaps it was not a rat, but one of the hold, had pirates, that bit her.

But still Cecilia and Archibald have gone and the scene closes in general confusion, with Mrs. Tweedlepump in hysterics, all the ladies trying to administer restoratives at the same time and nearly choking the poor lady, who alternately laughing and crying, sometimes shrieking for Cecilia during, and sometimes concluding that her beautiful new silk stockings and jazz garters ($3.75 Lawson's reduced prices) are completely ruined.

The Court House. The same night but late. Billy has got Mr. Chandler out of bed, who is attired in a dressing gown over his pink pyjamas, looking very chic, and Billy is getting the license.

In the meantime, Dicky and Jimmy have got Archibald in the basement of the Imperial Bank. They have taken the handkerchief out of his mouth, and Archibald is moaning like a distressed cow, promising he will never look at Cecilia again as long as he lives if they will only let him go. He has ruined his nice black suit and if they will only let him go he promises to make Billy a wedding present and do everything in his power to put Billy in good with Pa and Ma.

Jimmy goes to the door and comes back in a hurry. "Here they come, got poor Jean out of bed, good boy, Jean! Now we must be off to the Reverend Jelliff and get him up and tie the happy knot!" They speed the parting Archibald with a kick in the rear and make for the Mansions.

The Rev. Jelliff is awakened up and appears in a pretty nightcap with saucy ribbons and the ceremony is duly performed, and Billy and Cecilia are happily married and live happy ever after, of course, except for the occasional scarp.

The Reverend Tweedlepump advertises in The Wetaskiwin Times that if the two truants will only return all will be forgiven. This they do and there is a joyful homecoming. Everybody is happy and they have a big party and all take hands and dance round and round Billy and Cecilia, now Mr. and Mrs. Pickles, who stand in the middle of the ring, looking supremely happy and foolish. They all sing:

Here we go dancing round and round, Round and round. Round and round. Here we go dancing round and round The happy united Pickles.

What is there nicer in the world, In the world. In the world. What is there nicer in the world Than two beautiful happy Pickles?

Just one thing to make it complete, Make it complete. Make it complete. Just one thing to make it complete—Lots and lots more Pickles.

So now we wish you Jolly good health, Jolly good health. Jolly good health. Now we wish you Jolly good health, Long life and lots of Pickles. And Mrs. Pickles left by the midnight train for the Coast and other points. The bride's going away dress was etc., etc., etc., while the bridegroom was suitably attired in a pair of "entire pants."

Here and There

"Canada has the greatest opportunity of any community on the face of the earth," stated St. Joe Strachy, editor and proprietor of the London Spectator, in the course of a recent address before the Canadian Club. He stressed the advantages the country enjoyed in her large wheat area, electrical energy, wood pulp and mineral assets.

Between 20,000 and 25,000 men are expected to work in the forests of the Province of Quebec during the coming winter, according to the chief forester of the province. It is anticipated there will be a good season in the pulp and paper products, but that the cut of lumber will not be so heavy owing to the low price prevalent for sawn lumber.

Confidant relations between the ports of Quebec and Liverpool were emphasized recently by the exchange of cables by the respective Chief Magistrates of the two cities. The occasion was the Civic Week Celebration at Liverpool when the Lord Mayor, Thomas Dowd, sent Mayor Joseph Sanson of Quebec, greetings to which the latter responded.

A record for October weddings was established at the Windsor Station, Montreal, early in that month, when twenty couples entered the Concourse on their way to Boston, Quebec, Ottawa and Toronto. Two of the bridegrooms were bounced following time-honoured custom. It used to be the fashion to subject brides to this usage, but since the advent of short skirts the practice has been frowned upon.

Establishing what is easily a world record for movement of wheat, grain poured into Fort William and Port Arthur elevators, the rate of nearly thirty bushels a second for the whole of the 24 hours of October 5, from Canadian Pacific Railway cars. In all, 1,704 cars were unloaded during the day and each car carries an average load of 1,600 bushels, representing a total of 2,550,000 bushels.

Driving into stationary trains on level crossings seems to be a favorite sport on the part of a number of motorists judging by reports coming in recently from different sections. The latest is from Galt, where an automobile, in broad daylight, ran into a freight train consisting of 18 loaded and 15 empty cars standing in plain view on a crossing. Fortunately no one was hurt, but the incident is another of gross carelessness on the part of motorists.

The Grand Challenge Cup, emblematic of the First Aid championship of the entire system of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was won by the Weston Shops team, of Winnipeg, champions of the West, against McAdam, N.B., team, champions of the East and last year's winners, after a searching test of the two teams conducted at the Place Viger Hotel, Montreal, recently. The margin between the two teams was so narrow as to be in doubt in the last moment. Weston took 507 points out of a possible 672 and McAdam had 499.

Tourist traffic development throughout Canada has reached such proportions as to equal the value of a fairly good wheat crop, and such development has only just begun, is the opinion of Colonel Phil. Moore, of Yoho Valley, B.C., interviewed recently. He thought that an estimate of three hundred million dollars spent by tourists annually in Canada was not too high. Growth of interest in the Canadian Rockies was very noticeable and although the majority of tourists there were Americans, yet Canadians, too, were beginning to discover them, said the Colonel.

Not a Well Day For Two Years

Heart and Nerves

Were So Bad

Mrs. L. P. Jones, Kingsville, Ont., writes:—"I am writing to-day to tell you about what Millon's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me."

I am now twenty-three years of age, and have had three children, and I've hardly seen a well day for the past two years.

My heart hurt me so, at times, that I felt I was not long for this world, so I could not sit down to work, could not stand the least noise, or the children crying, in fact I could not do anything that was steady, and after a miserable day I would go to bed and get a little rest, but could not sleep much.

After I started to take Millon's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to have more ambition to work, and my heart and nerves are a lot better in every way, so I will gladly recommend them to all those who are suffering, as I did, from their heart or nerves."

ARE QUITE LIKELY TO HOLD PEACE RIVER BY-ELECTION

Edmonton, Nov. 21.—Persistent reports for some days back have been to the effect that a by-election in Peace River would probably be asked for by some of the parties concerned no matter how the final count goes, because of the closeness of the vote, was given further confirmation in news from the north yesterday, which gives the standing of the candidates at present as follows: Collins, Conservative, 3,397; Rae, Liberal, 3,341; Kennedy, Progressive, 3,325. Some of the polls are still to be heard from. It is said, and grounds for a protest exist over the fact that four polls in the extreme north of the Lac Ste. Anne district and four down the Peace River, were never held on account of the ballot boxes not having been delivered in time for election day. It is said about 300 electors were thereby deprived of their ballot.

DRAGNET IS OUT FOR BANK CLERK

Edmonton, Nov. 21.—The police dragnet is out for James Gervase Fitzmaurice, formerly teller at the Standard Bank, Drumheller, who is wanted on a charge of theft from the bank, involving approximately $7,000. A warrant for Fitzmaurice's arrest was issued November 14, and all offices of the A.P.P. notified.

The flags on the public buildings in the city have been flying at half mast during the past few days out of respect to the late Queen Mother, of England, who died on Friday last.

DIDN'T NEED IT

After writing a prescription for a patient, the doctor told him the drug list would probably charge a dollar for making up the medicine. When the patient asked the doctor to lend him the money, the doctor took the prescription and carefully scratched out a part of it, handing it back with the words: "You can have that made up for a quarter. What I scratched out was nerve medicine."

VERDUN

Miss Dessie Gibson has resumed school at Verdun.

Mrs. David Fontaine is leaving soon on a trip through the States for her health.

Reports have it that wedding bells will soon be ringing in the Verdun district.

Miss Jessye Campbell spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Campbell.

Mr. A. Henderson of Amisk, spent the week end at Verdun, being a guest of Mr. Ernest Humble.

Mrs. Margaret Clausen spent the week-end at Crooked Lake at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Lindsay.

Mr. John Campbell and family moved to Camrose on Thursday last, where they will reside in the future.

Mrs. Simon Peterson is leaving shortly for her home at Lloydminster. Her brother, Mr. Charles Clausen will accompany her for a short visit.

The Verdun Ring was ignited on Sunday, November 22 by a fast game of hockey between Duhamel and Verdun. The game resulted in a 5 to 1 score in favor of Verdun.

An enjoyable evening was spent at the little river, north of Mr. Fontaine's, on Friday last, attended by a large crowd. After some time spent in skating, an enjoyable supper was served by Mrs. Fontaine, and the morning hours were spent in dancing.

Here and There

During brilliant autumn sunshine, the coast of British Columbia offers a striking contrast to the severe winter weather already making itself felt in other parts of Canada. On the Coast, golf courses are crowded, the ocean is dotted with figures of bathers taking their daily dip, and pleasure craft still ply the waters.

One hundred thousand dollars' worth of Black Fox puppies were shipped to Antwerp on the Canadian Pacific liner "Melita" recently. In specially built cages they will be conveyed by the Dominion Express across Europe to the farm in Switzerland where they will form the nucleus of a fox-breeding establishment.

Another instance of foolhardiness. A recent report from Hull is to the effect that an automobile, travelling at high speed, crashed through both gates at the Chelsea Road level crossing just as they were being lowered to stop traffic so that a light engine should pass. The automobile smashed its way over the tracks barely two feet ahead of the locomotive.

Arthur Edward Shave, in the employment of the Canadian Pacific Railway since August 18, 1908, when he was appointed clerk in the office of the Treasurer, has been appointed assistant treasurer of the company. Mr. Shave became assistant chief clerk in the office of the Treasurer in 1915 and was promoted Chief Clerk in 1919.

Alberta Stock Wins Prizes

Alberta exhibitors in the horse and cattle classes at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto the past week were heavy winners. In the Short-horn classes, the Prince of Wales "King of the Fair," won the grand championship against strong competition. H. G. Morrison's 3 year old Aberdeen Angus cow was first in her class and was reserve champion.

In Herefords, most of the prizes came to Alberta. Frank Collicutt of Crossfield, and O. A. Boggs and Sons of Daysland, dividing the honors. Collicutt won all the female championships, his junior yearling heifer was junior grand champion, and his 4 year old cow was senior and reserve grand champion.

Senior and grand championships went to Boggs on their bull, Columbian Dan, and the reserve went to Frank Collicutt on Willow Spring Gay Lad 515.

In graded herds, Collicutt was first and Boggs second, in the junior herds Boggs was second, and in the class of three year olds, Collicutt was first and Boggs second, with Boggs first in two progeny of one cow.

The University of Alberta came strongly to the front in the finished herd market animals and won six firsts in Angus, Herefords and Short-horn steer classes. J. L. Walters came first and W. W. Sharpe second. In junior yearlings, the University came second with Sharpe's steer.

In the senior yearling Hereford class, the University came first and was also at the top in the junior class.

In the senior calf class, the U. of A. had second place and in the junior class won first, second and sixth. W. W. Sharpe, Weston, Ont., won grand championship in the steer classes and the University of Alberta captured the reserve of the show.

All the first prizes in Percheron stallions have been won by Davenport and Greenway of Lacombe, Alberta. The championships will go to these breeders when they are awarded. G. Lane and Co. of the Bar U ranch were winners of seconds and thirds in several of the stallion classes.

Compliments Alberta Butcher High compliments to the quality of Alberta butter and other western butter were paid in a speech recently delivered in London, England, by A. J. Mills, chairman of a large importing firm, at a dinner given by the High Commissioner for Canada. In his speech, Mr. Mills said:

"I am very pleased to see, in connection with butter, the marked development that is taking place in the northwest, and the butter we are now getting from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba is of very fine quality, well graded, and a great credit to the producers. This opinion has been confirmed in a marked way at this week's London Dairy Show, where Canadian butters, in competition with New Zealand and Australia, obtained the first three prizes in salted, and first prize in unsalted. It only shows what can be done in your factories, and if you wanted encouragement you have it this week."

Course for Creamery Workers A three weeks' creamery course is now being offered jointly by the University and the department of agriculture, commencing Tuesday morning, December 1, at 9 o'clock, in room 125 of the south laboratory, University of Alberta.

of Alberta. The course is planned for people who have already had some practical experience in creamery work and intend to again return to it.

Lectures will be given each day during the course and will cover principles and methods in the production and handling of milk and cream; the testing, grading, and quality basis; marketing of cream and butter; the care and handling of the apparatus and equipment used in creamery operations; and the importance of the various operations. The practical work in the dairy laboratories will include the receiving, recording, testing, grading and pasteurization of cream; butter making; grading and composition tests of butter; the testing of milk and cream for butterfat and acidity. Briefly, it is the purpose to bring out the importance of closely noting and checking the details of the various operations.

Those who plan to attend the course should notify the department as soon as possible, and bring with them their butter irons, note books and clean white overall suits or aprons.

WINTER CARE OF PREGNANT SOWS

At the Dominion experimental station, Lacombe, the first provision made in connection with the winter management of pregnant sows is for exercise. To compel exercise, the sleeping quarters are located some 200 yards from the feeding troughs which are near the main pigery, thus forcing the sows to walk to and fro twice daily for their feed. The lot over which the sows walk is ploughed deep in the fall to expose fresh earth of which the sows consume small amounts daily. A shed cheaply constructed from posts, discarded woven wire and straw, or well banked portable cabins prove to be excellent winter quarters. During extremely cold weather following a heavy snowfall there is some danger of the sows' teats being frost bitten when the pigs plough through the snow to the feeding trough. This rarely occurs, as the sows usually have a well tramped trail made to the trough.

From 3 to 5 pounds of whole oats or oat-chop, fed scattered on the frozen surface or in troughs with a pound of wheat bran daily, per day per head makes a good grain allowance. It sows are in this flesh the grain ration might include one-third barley until the condition improved. If roots, turnips, or mangels, are available, 5 to 10 pounds per head might be fed each day. Alfalfa or clover hay is also a valuable roughage and will be readily consumed. If oats have been cut quite green, mature sows will eat the green feed with relish and benefit. It is difficult to lay down definite rules to meet all conditions, therefore, the feeder must exercise judgment and feed a ration made up of a variety of feeds and feed much or little as the condition of the sows demand in order to keep them from getting over-fat, or yet becoming too thin. Soft coal can be fed to advantage if kept before the sows at all times. To prevent hairless pigs dissolve one ounce of potassium iodide in one gallon of water and feed one tablespoonful of the solution per sow per day for 90 days previous to farrowing.

ALBERTA CATTLE CROSS THE LINE DESPITE TARIFF

The United States high tariff on Canadian cattle has not entirely prevented American buyers from purchasing stock in Western Canada. A. E. Brinjar, of Fairfield, Idaho, on Friday bought 22 cars of stockers from Carlson for shipment to Selby, Idaho.

This shipment averaged about 700 pounds and cost from 3 1/2 to 4 cents. Mr. Brinjar stated that the demand for Canadian cattle in the United States is good, owing to feed shortages in the States in 1924, that year, owing to lack of feed, stock was rushed to market, creating a shortage this year.

According to Mr. Brinjar, there is very little money to be made by stock raisers in the United States, owing to the high price of feed. Consequently, American buyers are looking to Canada for young stock. The banks in the western states have closed down on farmers there, which handicaps the agriculturists in their stock raising activities—Albertan.

LEGS CRUSHED BY LOAD OF GRAVEL

Innisfail, Nov. 21.—Harold Moore, eldest son of J. R. Moore, one of Innisfail's leading farmers, met with a terrible accident yesterday afternoon. He was engaged in hauling gravel for the government highway, driving 12 horses attached to two heavy dump wagons, each containing upwards of five tons of ballast. It appears that he was doing something in his harness when the outfit was moving and slipped, the heavy load passing over both legs. He was rushed to the Innisfail hospital and his injuries attended to by Doctors Wagner and Scott. It is not known just whether amputation will be necessary.

HE SHOULD BE

"May I ask you why you are in this distressing place?" the young woman asked the polite convict. "Certainly, madam," he replied. "I am here for robbery at a seaside hotel." "Oh, how interesting!" "Where you were you the proprietor?"

COMMITTEE TO FIND AGAINST WATER SCHEME

Edmonton, Nov. 21.—An adverse report on the proposal to supply the city with water from Pigeon lake will be made to council by the special committee composed of Aldermen Dury, Findlay and Dugan. This decision was clearly indicated when the committee had a meeting on Friday afternoon to discuss the terms of its final report to the 1925 council.

One of the main points in the report to be prepared is that there is not sufficient official information as to a dependable supply of water at Pigeon lake. Owing to the absence of records that should cover at least a ten-year period, the committee feels that it is not advisable to adopt the scheme at the present time.

The aldermen feel, however, that any recording should continue and that these records should be available for the city for filling purposes.

Regarding the quality, reports from the city engineer have stated that tests of water from the centre of Pigeon lake show it to be free of contamination. In other parts some vegetable debris has been discovered and it is felt that this would have to be treated by a filtration plant before it could be utilized for a municipal supply.

"The whole proposal hinges on a dependable supply," said Alderman Dugan, and this appeared to be the opinion of the other members of the committee.

During the discussion it was agreed that the lake water could not doubt be more cheaply chlorinated and otherwise treated than that now obtained from the Saskatchewan river.

During the discussion it was agreed that the lake water could not doubt be more cheaply chlorinated and otherwise treated than that now obtained from the Saskatchewan river. It was agreed that a draft of this side of the scheme should be prepared and later on the committee will meet to submit its report to the present year's council.

Little has been heard of the Pigeon lake water supply scheme this year, while it was apparent that the city would not consider the matter favorably at present. The scheme was first put up to the city in 1924 by the late Frank Gray and associates and it was considered by a council committee at several meetings.

THE TEST OF A MAN

"The test of a man is the fight he makes,
The grit that he daily shows;
The way he stands on his feet and takes Fate's numerous bumps and blows.
Why, a coward can smile when the force is brought to bear,
When nothing his progress bars,
But it takes a man to stand up and cheer
When some other fellow stars.

It isn't the victory after all,
But the fight that a fellow makes.
The man who, driven against the wall
Still stands erect and takes The blows of Fate, with his head held high,
Bleeding and bruised and pale,
Is the man who will win in the end, and
For he isn't afraid to fail.

It's the bumps you get and the jolts you get
And the shocks that your courage stands,
The hours of sorrow and vain regret,
That test the temper of your hands,
That test your mettle and prove your worth;
It isn't the blows you deal,
But the blows you take on your good old earth
That shows if your stuff is real."
—Swiped.

THE SELLING OF SURPLUS POULTRY

Many poultry raisers have difficulty in disposing of their surplus cock-ereels, pullets and old hens. This is not caused by a lack of demand for these birds, but because they are so frequently marketed in such a condition as to be very unattractive to the consuming public.

The first requisite is a fleshy bird, cleanly running at large all summer without being liberally fed cannot be fat nor tender. If shut up (preferably in crates) and fed soft mash made of ground oats and middlings mixed with skim milk for three weeks they will become both fat and tender.

Too often the bird is scalded and drawn before being marketed. This may be satisfactory for immediate use but not otherwise. The scalding leaves the skin in such a condition that it is subject to infection and after a short time of exposure, the flesh begins to spoil. Removing the entrails has the same effect. The inside of the bird becomes exposed and the flesh soon spoils. The bird should be fasted for a day before killing and killed by bleeding through the neck. It should then be dry plucked, not drawn, and cooked as quickly as possible. A well developed chicken fattened and killed in this way is in demand by hotels, cafes and private families at any time of the year.

The marketing of hens is sometimes more difficult but the same general rules hold good. June is the best time to market them because eggs are cheap and meat is dear. Fattening is not generally necessary but the fasting, killing and plucking is the same as for the younger birds.
The matter may be summed up negatively with a number of Don'ts:
Don't try to sell poor birds.
Don't take heads or feet off.
Don't scald.
Don't draw.
Don't sell old hens except when the eggs are cheapest.

CANADIAN BUTTER USED WORLD WIDE

Canadian butter is now used in many lands, the market for this product being world wide. Great Britain is our best customer, but other heavy purchasers include the United States, South Africa, Bermuda, the West Indies, Newfoundland, Iceland, Cuba, Alaska, Japan, China, Germany, Belgium, Holland, New Zealand, the Philippine Islands, several of the South American states and Panama. Canadian butter exports last year were worth $50,419,113. For the previous year the figure was $38,768,168, and for the year before that $24,724,457.
It is the high and uniform quality that has created the ever increasing demand in such far-flung markets, and the standard is set by butter made on the prairies of western Canada.

POULTRY AND EGG FIGURES
According to trade figures, poultry and eggs marketed by farmers in Alberta last year were worth in the aggregate $3,196,000 to the producers.

istration of its affairs.

ONWARD

Each day has its own burden. Don't add to it.
Each day has its own brightness.

A true friend is priceless. Don't look too long at the feet of clay. Even the best is imperfect.

Every man makes, or fails to make, his own destiny; and chance and storms are often our own manufacture.

Don't mistake muscle for mind.
Hercules may have the mentality of a ten-year-old. Mind still is master.

We all admire beauty, but unselfish beauty alone is beautiful.
The Christian carries his credentials in his face, or he will before he arrives at the end of his journey. Love transfigures all faces.

The Automobile is fast, but never quite fast enough to leave ourselves and our past behind. We always carry ourselves with us. Better see that we have good company.

A kind word is just as long-lived as a curse, and it is much pleasanter to recall. Men will remember us in part at least, by what we say. Better speak kindly.

Forgetfulness of injuries is a sure passport to peace. The fighting world soon ceases if we forget our hatreds.
Hate shortens life with its devouring heat, and banishes, life longers.

A man is as big as the circle of his sympathy. The selfish man shrinks ever towards a minimum of mankind.
As self develops, mankind recedes.

No man does everything well. The good preacher may be a poor plus-man. Don't be discouraged if you are not an expert at everything; but be sure you are really good at something.

The pathway to success is seldom smooth and often long; but the goal repays for it all.

BIG DEVELOPMENTS IN OIL FORECASTED

The famous Dutch Shell Oil company, with activities all over the world and in which the British government is a heavy shareholder, has decided to enter the Canadian field, and the announcement of the incorporation of a million dollar Shell oil development company has been made at Ottawa. It is the forecast of big developments in the oil fields of western Canada, where the Shell people have had an eminent geologist investigating the geological structures in Alberta for the last three months.

Perth in West Australia, and Dar-ben, in Natal, opposite each other, are fine modern cities.

Made Startling Test Jump With Parachute

Culgary, Nov. 15.—Creating a record for the British empire, Flight-Lieut. Albert Carter, of the High River air patrol, jumped from an aeroplane at an altitude of 20,000 feet above sea level on Saturday, and was carried safely to the ground by a new and specially designed parachute, after drifting some six miles. It was a notable feat, and is said to be equal to any record made by flyers of any part of the globe under similar conditions.

This experiment was tried out at the federal government air station at High River on Saturday morning with only a few spectators, and was witnessed by a group of excited onlookers when he successfully completed the journey from far above the clouds above to the earth below. In his own words, it was simply a test to try out a new kind of parachute, and it worked with the greatest success all the way.

The machine climbed steadily until it reached a height of 20,000 feet and then it could climb no higher. Carter adjusted his equipment, stood with one foot on the edge of the cockpit, ready to make the jump which would put his life into the hands of the parachute. It was cold up there, three below zero to be exact, and he froze his face and his hands became numb while he was waiting for a favorable second to take the plunge.

Before the parachute is released it is necessary for the "jumper" to get free of the aeroplane. With the rip cord in his right hand, which by this time had little sense of feeling, Carter stood ready. Four times he looked to see that all was well, and then he leaped. Probably he had pulled the one hundred feet before he dropped the cord and the parachute opened. From the time he jumped until he landed, some six miles from the vertical, he had no feeling of the cold and carried out the tests he had set out to make without difficulty.

This is what the instruments showed: He jumped at an altitude of 20,000 feet; he drifted six miles and was 17 minutes from the time he jumped until safely back on earth again. For the first part of the journey he travelled at a rate of 1400 feet a minute, and later, when he got down into air of less density, the rate of velocity was lessened to be between 800 and 1000 feet a minute.

Lieut. Carter was with the group which made the aerial surveys in this district a couple of months ago.

North Borneo, the old home of the "head hunters," is now, among other things, a growing coal producing country.

PLAY SCOUT BALL

Everybody admires a good sportsman. All of us like to be considered good sportsmen. And we like to believe that Canadians as a whole are all round good sportsmen.

But have we reason to be sure of that? The criticism has been made that we have lost much of the spirit of true sportsmanship through the influence of baseball, particularly the established baseball habit of attempting to "rattle" the visiting pitcher. The "razzing" of home players, the unmake errors, the baiting of umpires, etc. As an extreme example of this you may recall the newspaper story a month ago, of a prominent Brooklyn National League player who announced that he and several others of the team were seriously considering giving up the game, because of the extremely unpleasant remarks continually showered at them from the grandstand and bleachers.

What has been your own experience at baseball games? Have you not many times heard the crowd howl mockingly when some player, doing his best, fumbled a ball, or at some exciting moment made a misplay? And have you frequently not heard a crowd, when a home pitcher, previously heralded, has lost control, yell angrily and derisively, "Take him out!" "Take him out!" Did you ever hear anyone call out, when a pitcher was knocked out of the box, and walked dejectedly from the field: "Never mind, old chap, you'll get them over next time." Very seldom—although it has been recorded. It was almost to read in one newspaper account of the closing innings of this year's big league championship that the excited Pittsburgh crowd became so unruly that Johnson, the great Washington pitcher, passed toward the gate, and "hand after hand" reached to grasp his and many a time he was told, "We're sorry, Walter, that it had to be you!"

It is an unfortunate fact, however, that this spirit is seldom shown by baseball crowds. And the attitude seems to have crept into the rest of our sport. At rugby, soccer, and hockey games, decisions which do not favor the home team are frequently booed and hooted. There have been instances of crowds in certain seat sections at professional hockey games throwing things upon the ice, in order to trip the players. Another angle of bad sportsmanship in amateur baseball or hockey, particularly in small town leagues, is the bringing in of outside players, calling them "Straw Punks" and saying them in some surreptitious way for their services.

As to Canadian athletes themselves their present day standard of sportsmanship is as high as one could find anywhere. While such things as "marking" good men, and "putting them out of business," has not been unknown, this has greatly diminished during recent years, and today our boys generally play the game straight and accept the rulings of the referee, and take their knocks in good temper. In this our colleges are setting a splendid lead.

The test of sportsmanship at games is not always confined to those out on the field. Some eight years ago during the Maritime Intercollegiate rugby final between the University of New Brunswick and Mount Allison, the deciding moment and apparent victory for N.B. came with the team touching during the last few minutes of play. There was a question, however whether the runner had not stopped.

The Thanksgiving meeting of the Little River W.M.S. was held on Thursday last at the home of Mrs. E. W. Wilson, Angus Ridge. There was a large attendance and the thank-offering collection, with the year's reports, exceeded the allocation. The members and visitors were pleased to have Rev. A. L. Elliott, of the Wetaskiwin United church address them. There were also papers by Mrs.

Doupe, Mrs. C. Shantz, and Mrs. E. B. Switzer. Miss Brandt gave a sacred solo and three of the members sang a hymn.

A life membership was presented to the president, Mrs. J. Arnold, by Mrs. Doupe on behalf of the society, who expressed the good will of the members. The meeting was followed by a social time over lunch served by the committee in charge. The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Shantz on December 10.
